Strike at United States Steel Co. Plants is Averted

Long Allis - Chalmers Strike Ends; Other News of Industry

(By The Associated Press)
The United States Steel Corporation and the C. I. O. Steel Workers Organizing Committee agreed today to continue their wage negotiations, thus averting the threat of an immediate work stoppage in the steel company's mills.

The S. W. O. C. issued a statement saying that workers would remain at their posts under the present contract until April 15 and that any changes in wages or working conditions agreed upon in the meantime would be retroactive to April 1. The S. W. O. C. previously had called a strike for midnight Tuesday.

In Washington Secretary Perkins told the House military committee that she had been informed that difficulties surrounding work stoppage in the bituminous coal fields would "be cleared before the day is over—maybe even now".

Termination of the Allis-Chalmers strike was assured when members of the C. I. O. plant local ratified an agreement settling the 76-day shutdown.

Federal conciliators turned full attention, with the Allis-Chalmers settlement, to the problem of ending labor strife at the Ford Motor Company.

James E. Dewey, Federal conciliator, announced "We're going to do some real mediating today" and said he knew he was going to bring the C. I. O. leaders and Ford officials face to face. It was indicated the joint conference might take place tonight, as Dewey had separate afternoon meetings set with the union and company representatives.

Agreement Signed
The Allis-Chalmers walkout, which has blocked work on $45,000,000 of defense orders since January 22, was virtually settled by the defense mediation board yesterday when management and C. I. O. union officials signed an agreement which needs only union membership ratification to become effective.

The company announced it would reopen the plant to its 7,500 employees tomorrow. Union leaders said they would ask members to ratify the agreement and go back to work the same day.

In New York, northern soft-coal mine operators and the C. I. O. United Mine Workers made ready a new contract to replace one which expired last week. Southern operators, who claim to produce 35 per cent of the nation's bituminous coal, said they would not sign. Principal U. M. W. A. demands included wage increases and elimination of a north-south pay differential.

Hard-working John R. Steelman, chief of the Federal Conciliation Service, turned from the soft-coal negotiations to call union and management representatives to a

The Red School House children's shoe was manufactured by the Henderson company until the firm sold out its Dixon factory to the Brown Shoe Co.

United States 100 Days from Maximum Production, Biggers

Washington, April 7—(AP)—Asserting that the United States was 100 days from mass production of defense supplies, John D. Biggers declared today that "every industrial manager, every worker must realize that the history of the world may depend on what we all do in these 100 days".

Biggers, who is defense production director in the Office of Production Management testified after Secretary Perkins had said that labor and employed had a responsibility to cooperate in avoiding delays in defense production.

Miss Perkins was the first witness in the committee's investigation of labor conditions in defense industries.

Biggers, a dollar-a-year man, declared that some manufacturers were "hoarding unwarranted stocks" of strategic materials through "selfishness", and thereby were creating a defense shortage, and added:

"Some union leaders, also prompted by selfishness, are sponsoring unnecessary strikes. They also are impeding our program".

Chairman May (D-Ky) explained to the committee that William Knudsen, director of the OPM; Clarence Dykstra and some other key defense officials could not attend today's hearing because of previous engagements. Knudsen, he said, was in Texas attending the opening of a new plane plant.

Representative Clason (R-Mass) demanded whether a "dedication in Texas is more important than appearing before this committee".

Chairman Defends Knudsen
"The gentlemen had previous engagements", May replied, "if the gentleman from Massachusetts had a previous engagement the chair would be inclined to excuse him from appearing".

The labor secretary said in a statement that there was a danger of "over-emphasizing" as well as under-emphasizing the labor situation in defense industries.

"We all realize", Miss Perkins said, "that there must be continuity of production in the defense industry".

Dog Allegedly Slain, Very Much Alive; Charges Against Three Youths Dismissed

Tablet of Famous Lincoln Address is Unveiled Saturday

Placed in Loveland Community House by Dixon's W. R. C.

Before an assemblage of guests from Dixon, Freeport, Franklin Grove, Ashton, Forreston, Amboy, and Polo, a bronze tablet of Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address was unveiled in the corridor, opposite the Loveland Community House, yesterday afternoon, and an American flag was presented for the auditorium. Presentation of the gifts was made during a special program arranged by the Dixon Woman's Relief corps, in celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Grand Army of the Republic.

"The trustees of the Loveland estate are proud to place this tablet in the hall opposite the Loveland room", stated Trustee Homer E. Senneff "and to all who pass through this building, may it be a reminder of Lincoln's unselfish life". He also referred to Mr. Loveland as "an ardent and loyal member of Dixon post of the Grand Army".

It was regretted that Lee county's two surviving Civil War Veterans, John Ford of this city and George W. Ling of Franklin Grove, were unable to be present, because of ill health. Mrs. Tethia Whitford of Freeport, junior past president of the Woman's Relief corps, department of Illinois, substituted on the program for Mrs. Nellie Neiderdelt of Wilmington, department president.

Mrs. Whitford told of work that needs to be accomplished to aid the young men who are now in training camps. She brought greetings from all Illinois members of the Woman's Relief Corps, and spoke of the organization's program of teaching patriotism, child welfare, and aiding soldiers of all wars.

The tablet was unveiled by Maurice Ortgielew, young son of Mrs. Mabel Ortgiesen, president of the Dixon Woman's Relief Corps. Mrs. Ortgiesen reviewed the history of the G. A. R., which was founded by Benjamin F. Stephenson, a Springfield physician, who served as surgeon with the 14th Illinois Infantry.

G. A. R. Formed in 1866
Impressed with the desirability of a veterans' association for the mutual benefit of its members, soldiers' widows and orphans, Stephenson and a small group of

Governor's Budget Message on Radio

Springfield, Ill., April 7—(AP)—Tentative arrangements were made today for Governor Green to broadcast on Wednesday his message to the legislature, outlining the 1941-42 biennial state budget.

Representatives of the governor's office said the chief executive probably would speak at noon before a joint session of the House and Senate, but that definite arrangements as to time had not been made. The broadcast would be on a state house loop.

Governor Green last week disclosed he plans to submit a two-year budget calling for $503,953,000 in appropriations, or about $4,825,000 less than appropriations for the current biennium ending June 30.

Some administration officials thought the governor would, in the budget message, tell the general assembly whether he favors revision of the present revenue measures or enactment of new tax laws.

The governor's advisory committee studying state and local revenue problems postponed for a week, however, its scheduled report of a six week study of the state financial structure. Denesh S. Watson, committee chairman, said today the report probably would not be ready until early next week.

Charles Skinner, Amboy Murderer, Asks for Pardon

Charles Skinner of Amboy, serving a life sentence for the murder of Miss Olive Derwent, Amboy high school student, on the night of Jan. 30, 1935, is one of a group of 25 persons convicted of murder who are among 40 applicants for pardons to be heard tomorrow by the state pardon board. It was learned here today.

Reports indicated that strong opposition to Skinner's parole would be registered before the board.

Skinner, who during his trial became known as "The Mad Poet of Amboy", was found guilty of the murder of Miss Derwent by a jury in Lee county Circuit court on April 20, 1935, and was later sentenced to serve a life term in the state penitentiary by the late Judge Harry Edwards.

Miss Derwent was shot as she sat in a car in front of her home on the night of Jan. 30, 1935 and died at the Amboy hospital, Feb. 6.

In a list of 187 inmates of Illinois penal institutions who have been granted parole by the state board, which was announced today, is Rupert McCarthy of Lee county. McCarthy, the Lee county Circuit court records show, was sentenced to from 1 to 14 years for forgery at the state reformatory at Pontiac by Judge Harry Edwards on April 14, 1932, and previous applications for parole have been denied.

Bales Seeks Power to Send Habitual Drunks to Vandalia

Police Magistrate James E. Bales has requested an opinion from the attorney general's office at Springfield, to establish authority for the sentencing of prisoners in the Dixon police court to the state work farm at Vandalia for repeated offenses. When Magistrate Bales imposed a fine of $15 and costs upon James Gilmore, local WPA worker today, he warned the prisoner of his action and stated that if authority is found to exist, on his next appearance in police court he will be committed to the state farm for six months.

The police magistrate stated that he had asked for the opinion to rid the police court of repeated cases of drunkenness. A certain number of individuals are repeated offenders on such charges who are unable to pay fines and are sent to the county jail at the city's expense. Magistrate Bales said, and if the law permits these repeating offenders being committed to the state work farm it will provide a more stringent sentence and relieve the citizens of Dixon from paying the board of the offenders.

No Action Against Britain by French

Vichy, France, April 7—(AP)—Chief of State Marshal Petain declared in a radio address today that French honor forbade any action against France's former allies.

The Marshal's speech called for French unity but did not mention General Charles DeGaulle, leader of "Free French" forces still fighting in Britain's side.

DeGaulle, now in Cairo, has exhorted Frenchmen to help tip the balance of war in the Mediterranean in Britain's favor. There had been indications that the Marshal would broadcast an answer.

"Honor requires us to undertake nothing against our former allies", Petain said. "But the integrity of the country requires that sources of our vital food and essential posts of our empire should be safeguarded. It is against these necessities that dissident propagandists act daily".

Greeks Withstand German Assaults: Belgrade on Fire

The War Today!

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

Hitler's attack in the Balkans indicates either supreme confidence or anxiety that delay would give the allies a chance to gain strength and get set for action—and likely he is impelled by both these feelings.

Without doubt his hand was forced by Yugoslavia's refusal to bend the neck, by Turkey's refusal to desert her mutual defense pact with Britain, and by Russia's growing coolness toward the axis. The Nazi chief probably felt that it was too risky to allow this potentially hostile group to coalesce.

He also is trying to beat out American aid to Britain and her allies. Our help has been his greatest fear and his gravest danger. He has had an unexpected break of luck in the considerable hold-up of production in the United States and must be hoping that he will be able to crush the British-aided Balkans before American production can get going full steam.

Thus far news of this great offensive has been too meager to give much indication of how the battle goes. The Greeks appear to be holding gallantly and well at the point of invasion near the Struma river valley, but word from the north throws little light on the position.

There seems strong probability, however, that the German war machine will sweep swiftly across the open country in the northern half of Yugoslavia. Well-wishers of this big Balkan state must be prepared for that.

The proud capital of Belgrade on the Danube, likely will be in the hands of the nazis within a few hours. In recognition of this probability the government already has withdrawn southward and is headed over the Skopje.

These events need not cause undue concern, however, since they have been anticipated. Yugoslavia's main stand must be made among the mountains in the southern portion of the country, and the high command has planned for that. It is unlikely that there will be any strong defense of the basin of the Danube or the wide valleys of its numerous tributaries.

German strategy thus far has followed the course expected. Several independent attacks have been launched against Yugoslav and Greek territory, after this fashion:

1. In the north a Nazi force has struck across the Yugoslav border from Austria into the valley of the Sava and is headed for the Croat capital of Zagreb.

2. Another German contingent has headed over the Hungarian border for Belgrade.

3. At the same time a second thrust at Belgrade is being made from Rumania.

4. From the vicinity of Sofia, Bulgaria, German forces are driving at Nish, and at Skopje in the Vardar valley.

5. Two Nazi contingents are attacking Greece from Bulgaria through the Struma valley.

The Nazi operations in Yugoslavia are calculated to gain quick control of the main railway system and highways of the country and thus pave the way for a drive down through the Vardar valley into Greece and against the great port of Salonika. The push across the Bulgarian border also are aimed at Salonika.

Salonika is the vital objective of the moment, and therefore the vital point of defense for the allies. This big port not only is the rail head for most of the important railroads of the Balkans, but it gives Yugoslavia her sole access to the outside world not dominated by the axis powers.

The fact that the Germans were compelled to attack Salonika through the Struma valley of Bulgaria, rather than through the Vardar valley of Yugoslavia, has given the allies a far more advantageous position for defense. Had the Yugoslavs given in to Berlin, and allowed the Germans to use the Vardar valley to attack Greece, the campaign might have been short-lived.

As it is, the Greeks and British

Mountain Passes Littered With German Dead

(By The Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's two-day-old invasion of Greece and Yugoslavia was reported late today to have failed to capture any strategic points along the 750-mile Balkan front, although the Germans laid claim to an advance of 18 to 25 miles into Yugoslavia.

Greece's rugged mountain fighters, out-numbered 10 to one by Nazi legions hammering at the Struma river front, were declared in Athens to have stood off violent new German assaults at the end of the second day of fighting.

Advices reaching Bern, Switzerland, of Hitler's double-barreled thrusts said the nazis' heaviest blows fell in dive-bombing raids on cities, railway centers, airports and bridges.

British R. A. F. planes bombed "military objectives" at Sofia, capital of Bulgaria, it was announced officially.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch said Britain had decided to break off diplomatic relations with Nazi-occupied Hungary.

Direction Not Given

The direction of the German advance into Yugoslavia was not given. Nazi troops massed on the Rumanian frontier had been within 50 miles striking distance of Belgrade, the Yugoslav capital.

Athens dispatches said Greek infantrymen were holding fast amid furious attacks in narrow Macedonian mountain passes littered with German dead and the wreckage of 10 Nazi tanks.

The Greek high command said the German Palm Sunday invasion had been stopped with the loss of only a single fort.

Dispatches from Bern, Switzerland, quoted the Yugoslav radio as saying that Yugoslav artillery had opened fire along the Albanian frontier, preparing for an attack on Italian-held Albania.

Hitler's high command asserted that the Nazi advance into both Balkan nations was "proceeding on schedule against stubborn resistance".

Belgrade Reported Aflame

The Germans said Yugoslavia's capital, Belgrade, had been subjected to a fourth heavy bombing attack during the night and left aflame.

D. N. B., the official German news agency, quoted the Bulgarian air command as saying Yugoslav bombers had attacked the open cities of Sofia and Kustendil, Bulgaria, killing several women and children.

Hitler's high command listed "enemy" plane losses in the opening days of the new conflict at 104.

Italy joined in the hostilities. The fascist airforce reported it had bombed the Yugoslav naval bases of Split (Spalato) and Cattaro, an arsenal and an air base.

Turkey remained neutral as German Panzer divisions stormed into neighboring Greece, but the official Turkish radio declared Germany's given reasons for the attack "do not satisfy anyone".

"It is apparent who brought war to the Balkans", the radio said, adding that German strategy appeared to be aimed at Yugoslavia's "waist"—the important rail junction city of Nis in the Vardar river valley—in the hope of slicing Yugoslavia in two.

Russia's Sympathetic

Soviet Russia, linked to Yugoslavia by a newly-signed pact of friendship and non-aggression, likewise remained calm, but the newspaper Izvestia commented that Yugoslavia's efforts to secure peace "could not help arouse the sympathy of the soviet union".

An American radio correspondent for C. B. S. in Ankara, Turkey, reported that the Greeks counter-attacked Hitler's invading legions, "threw the Germans back and at one point are on Bulgarian soil".

Dispatches from Switzerland said it was understood the Bulgarian army of 200,000 troops had joined the Germans in the attack on Greece.

But the Greeks remained defiant. The Athens newspaper Hestia declared: "Sixty million Italians who were unable to defeat the Greeks called on 800,000 Germans to help them. That is 140,000,000 against 8,000,000. It makes the Italian at-

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You

No. 26 of a Series

ARE YOU SEEING ONLY PART OF THE PICTURE?

The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean wholesome places.

Yet it is the once-in-a-while exception—the anti-social, law-violating tavern that everybody notices.

Such undesirable retailers give beer a bad name it doesn't deserve. Furthermore, by arousing public indignation, retailing abuses endanger your right to enjoy good beer, the beverage of moderation. They also endanger the benefits that beer has brought to Illinois—73,769 persons employed since re-legalization, an annual payroll of $67,820,548 and $2,922,136.00 taxes paid last year.

While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell it under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry wants anti-social retailing eliminated entirely.

You can help us by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

GUESTS AT SUNDAY BREAKFAST ARE TOLD OF EMILY SWAN'S PLANS FOR JUNE 7TH BRIDAL

"Howard and Emily—June 7th", was the message found printed on decorative match boxes at the guests' places at a 10 o'clock breakfast party yesterday morning. And so, the party guests learned that the first Saturday of the traditional month for brides has been chosen by Miss Emily Swan, only daughter of the E. J. Swans of this city, as the date for her marriage to Howard H. Ekstrom of Hartford, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Ekstrom of Rockford.

Yesterday morning's announcement party was held at the Swan home, 214 Morgan street. Calla lilies, sweetpeas, snapdragons, and Mexican iris in colors to match tiny nosegays decorating the mirror-topped match box place cards was the center trim on the breakfast table, seating 12.

Guests numbered Mrs. G. H. Ekstrom of Rockford, mother of Miss Swan's fiancé; Mrs. E. J. Swan, Mrs. Paul Potts, Mrs. Allan Boyd, Mrs. Vernon Swan, and the Misses Jean Bovey, Anna Jean Crabtree, Bettie Haines, Leone Kreim, Louise Hintz, and Virginia Klein.

The bride-to-be is employed at the Illinois Northern Utilities company. Mr. Ekstrom is an eastern representative for the Sundstrand Machine Tool company, with headquarters in Hartford.

A three-course breakfast was served immediately after the ceremony. Yellow and white roses trimmed the three-tiered cake, with a tiny bride and groom on the topmost tier. White vases contained daffodils and ferns were another decorative note on the table.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:
"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actually to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

A Stab of Light Into the Dim Future
A mere million dollars is nothing in the vortex of billions whirling about in Washington today. Yet the million dollars spent by the Temporary National Economic Committee during the past three years in getting together 20,000 pages of testimony from more than 500 industrial leaders may turn out to be the most productive million of them all.
The committee set itself a crushing task—nothing less than to find out the answers to the questions everyone has been asking for 10 years: Why want amid plenty? What's wrong with our economic system?
Now, in 37 volumes, the report is made. It should be the greatest mine of information that exists on our economy and how it works, and why it doesn't work.
Everybody is concerned about what will happen after the war emergency is over. Will it mean another depression worse than the last one? It is certainly possible unless the greatest possible foresight is used, beginning now. The recommendations of the TNEC are aimed, apparently, at this post-war period rather than at the period of the defense effort, which is no time to rock boats.
Many and many a sub-study, and many a recommendation for new laws will come out of the vast body of what the TNEC has learned about our economy. Only the general lines are clear, but they are interesting as a questing searchlight beam poked toward the future.
First, the committee is sold on free enterprise. It feels that the only way in which America will eventually be gotten back at peacetime work is by reopening the opportunities for new enterprise. Those avenues are now increasingly blocked on one hand by the increasing size of a few vast corporations, and by increasing government regulation.
Thus the committee suggests: subjecting national corporations to national charter and control; loosening the grip of patent rights; abolition of basing-point systems for calculating prices; re-

SERIAL STORY

DOLLARS TO DOUGHNUTS
BY EDITH ELLINGTON

MASQUERADE MUST END
CHAPTER XXIV
KIDNAPED! The dance hall is a new thrill for Bee. She is so much in love with Anthony, and she knows he loves her. Sam and Toby seem to have settled their difficulties, too. En route home on the subway, Bee sees a headline: HEIRRESS BELIEVED KIDNAPED!

MASQUERADE MUST END
CHAPTER XXIV

KIDNAPED! The paper said that Beatrice Davenport had been kidnapped. It was incredible, fantastic, so ridiculous that Beatrice wanted to scream.
She wasn't kidnapped. How in the world had that story gotten started? Her head hummed.
She was supposed to be in South America. Of course, she'd never so much as booked passage on a liner. But even if someone, somehow, had run across that damaging fact—did that make her kidnapped?
Then, like a blow, she remembered. Clarence was the one who thought of kidnappings!
Oh, the fool, the blundering idiot! This story must have come from him. She'd disappeared—he couldn't find her—Weeming said she'd gone to South America and Clarence, shocked because their marriage was only a week away, must have tried to find out where in South America...
The thoughts flitted through her head so swiftly that only now was the train stopping at the station. The doors opened. She looked at Toby, her head bent to take in more of that tabloid story. "Come on, Toby!" Sam pulled at her.
"Oh, quick, buy me a paper! The Duchess has been kidnapped. Hallelujah!"
Stiffly, Beatrice walked out of the train beside Anthony. Toby had seen that picture. Didn't she recognize it?
Now they were on the platform. Anthony was looking straight ahead, his jaw a hard line, a little bunch of muscles twitching at the corner of his mouth. Beatrice felt her insides growing cold—dissolving with a little horrid sensation that was like nausea. "Anthony—?"
He didn't answer.
Oh, he had seen! He knew! But he still had said nothing, while the others chattered. Her mouth was dry. She wanted to ask him and couldn't.

On the stairs to the street she stumbled. Anthony caught her. His smile was tender.
No! He didn't know. He couldn't! Not and smile like that.
Dimly, as from a long way off, Toby's voice came to her. "They must be holding her for ransom. Boy! Wait until this news hits the store! The girls will be dancing in the aisles! They'll run up a flag on that roof where they were too tight to fix a sun deck for us worn-out, overworked slaves!"
"Imagine it," Vera murmured. "You'd think, with all her millions, she'd have sense enough to have a bodyguard!"
"The paper didn't say positively she's been kidnapped," Sam pointed out. "It said 'believed kidnapped.'"
"I hate that dame!" That was Toby's voice. "Ever since that $50,000 debut I've hated her. We slave in the store, while she runs around spending millions. But she's not having any wonderful time now, I hope. I hope they're keeping her in a cave. A nice damp cave some place where she can find out what it feels like to do without—"
"Toby! Stop gloating! It's ghastly!" That was Vera, tolerant as always, and a little amused. They were on the sidewalk. The corner candy store was closed. The drug store was closed. "No boys with extras. It's a disgrace! I want a paper right now!"
BEATRICE walked beside Anthony, the blood hammering at her temples, her knees weak. Couldn't they see on her face what this meant to her? If only they'd look at her, get it over with!
"I think it's barbarous," Sam McArdle said. "Kidnaping a girl! Men who would do that should be executed. Why, it's—it's—"
"All right, kidnaping is terrible," Toby admitted. "But, Sam, this is the Duchess. You work for her as well as we do. Doesn't she deserve it?"
"She's the kind who'll fall in love with one of the gangsters," Terry said. "Wouldn't that be a laugh? Anything for a thrill, with those girls!"
"I hope she gets a good, hard jolt. I hope every one of the gangsters holding her looks like a guerrilla. I hope—"
Beatrice found her voice. "Toby, why do you hate her so?" To her own ears, she sounded shrill and brittle. But she couldn't stop. "What has she ever done to you, besides having been born the granddaughter of Michael Huntington?"
"What has she ever done to you, besides having been born the granddaughter of Michael Huntington?"
"What has she ever done to you, besides having been born the granddaughter of Michael Huntington?"

peal of the Miller-Tydings type of price-maintenance laws; government restriction of new mergers; legal and tax policies which will foster and protect new enterprises, and thus encourage them.
That is a bare hint of the line of thought that has come to the majority of the TNEC after hearing all this testimony. The crux of the matter is here; as long as American business continues to gravitate into larger and fewer units, an equal centralization and expansion of government is inevitable. As free enterprise is restricted, free government is endangered; political freedom is impossible without economic freedom.
When the present emergency is passed, it is clear that the United States is going to have to do some fast stepping. Every bit of light that can be thrown now on the best direction of those steps, light such as the TNEC report is now shedding, is a guarantee of future safety and progress.

Automatic Brakes

Oklahoma has been the butt of many jokes, as a state, ever since the white man chased the Indians there on the assumption that the territory wasn't of much use for real estate purposes. Since then the oil business has brought Oklahoma a goodly share of cash, and farmers have done the best they could with the soil. Substantial cities have arisen and the state's educational system is regarded highly. In short, Oklahoma is a progressive state economically. Politically it is a cross between Alfalfa Bill Murray and Calvin Coolidge.
The other day Oklahoma voters approved a constitutional amendment to prevent unreasonable state deficits. In ten years the state's debt had risen to 32 million dollars. From now on the legislature can not make appropriations for any fiscal year in excess of average revenue for the three preceding years. Oklahoma politicians will not be able to act as though the state's credit were unlimited. The state of Nebraska has had an effective control over its finances for many years. As citizens of Oklahoma and Nebraska, people of those states have some protection against thriftless politicians who would rob the dead, the living and the unborn for political purposes. The federal government may well sit up and take notice.
Representative Wesley Disney of Oklahoma believes his state's scheme would be welcomed nationally. He promises to introduce a similar amendment to the federal constitution.
Is there any one who would object to a reasonable limitation on deficits?

News Behind THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, April 6.—The only one Mr. Roosevelt raised over defense strikes concerned the Allis-Chalmers slugging bee—and he was not alone in that. Personal relations of half a dozen members of his official family have been strained by the overlapping mudsides each has created in individual efforts to handle the strike. Personal hoots and boos have been heard inside and a hatpin has been wielded.
In a telegram Labor Secretary Perkins confessed pointedly to Senator Byrd she was unaware of the bold effort of Messrs. Knudsen and Knox to reopen the Allis-Chalmers plant. She indicated her labor department was getting ready to certify the case to the Labor Mediation Board when the Knudsen-Knox letter broke in the public prints. Miss Perkins was not the only high official left out on the Knudsen-Knox effort. In the dark with her were Roosevelt's labor coordinator Sidney Hillman and apparently FDR himself.

This flash of darkness was really only the sequel to Hillman's fall down the same cellar stairs six weeks ago. A settlement then was effected. In conferences here February 15 both labor and management agreed to a formula worked out by John R. Steelman's labor conciliation service with Father Haas, the well-known labor conciliator, and two men from Hillman's division. Basic point was that it would provide an umpire. But in telling of the agreement later Hillman opined it would not mean a closed shop for the union. That started the fight all over again.
Conflicting official fingers in this pie from the start include Miss Perkins, Steelman, Hillman, Knudsen, Knox, War Secretary Stimson, Governor Heil of Wisconsin, the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board and now the Labor Mediation Board.
This it appears is what made Roosevelt mad.
The way congress and other interested parties have backed off to let Roosevelt personally work out the defense strikers threat to American safety reflects a curious inside situation.
Roosevelt and his aide, Miss Perkins, are personally responsible for having started the CIO movement. They backed it in more than one congressional authority they doubt that they want organization of Henry Ford and "Little Steel". But now the deeper obligation has been imposed upon the president alone by congress to get defense goods out in time for Britain to defeat Hitler, and to defend our shores. The president, laboring between these two contradictory proposals, has occasionally come up with a contradictory statement, as manifest by the above recital of how his various agents have worked at odds amid more or less mystifying White House silence.
He started it. It's up to him to stop it.

Well backed for the guiding job of general counsel of the new Vinson congressional committee to investigate defense strikes is Edmund M. Toland, chief of the investigation of NLRB. His appointment would eliminate any suggestion that the committee might whitewash the labor situation. Energetic guide of the senate investigation of defense contractors was Hugh Fulton, 32-year-old SEC man who worked up the cases against Hopson and William Fox.
Republican victory in the St. Louis mayoralty was due to the interest of sincere business men, the old timers here say. A young alert business group went first into the Republican primary and defeated the regular political machine. Carrying its candidate in to the election, it defeated the Democratic machine.
Patience of Hitler with Yugoslavia was not entirely due to his surprise. Largest European producer of copper (the Balkans) is in Yugoslavia. Germany took over its control from the French under the fall of France. Hitler has no other place to get copper.
The British "purchasing" commission is significantly but quietly changing its name to the British "Supply" Council of North America. Council will be expanded to include two new divisions, a merchant shipping mission under Sir Arthur Salter, and a food supply mission under Hon. R. C. Rowe (working closely with Agriculture Secretary Wickard).
The British now have the whole 9th floor of the Willard Hotel, a Massachusetts avenue mansion and nearly 1,000 employees.

The proposal will apply to plants having sufficient orders on hand to make the change advisable," the spokesman explained. A list of plants involved will be announced soon, he added.

BANQUET TONIGHT

Transportation arrangements for the basketball banquet tonight have been arranged by the hosts, Ed Witzleb, Rae Arnold and John Shultz. The Coaches A. C. Bowers, L. E. Sharpe and C. B. Lindell, Toastmaster A. V. Lund and the tournament ten will meet at Tony's Soda Grill at 8 o'clock. The banquet hour has been set for 6:30 at Higby's.

SOFTBALL POW-WOW TONIGHT

The big chiefs of the Dixon Softball league will hold a pow-wow at the Borden company office tonight at 7 o'clock. Details of the league season and the discussion of a lighted field inside the city limits will be continued. It is important that all league officers and managers attend tonight's meeting.

PRINCETON PROSPECTS

The Princeton Tigers football team with Jack Young as captain, figures to be a light, fast outfit next fall, depending more on deception than power—according to recent reports from the Tiger city. Sophomore standouts from last year's varsity are Kenny Shipp, Tom Thompson and Bill Hanson. They will work with Captain-Elect Young, Bob Frantzen, Art Fleming, Bob Yates, Milt Hult, Buron Nelson and Arnold Train. Dixon plays the Tigers in a North Central conference game here on Oct. 31.

VETERAN BOWLER

Although Larry Poole, Dixon bowler, has not attended every American Bowling Congress tournament since 1914, this year's will be the tenth in which he has competed. Larry began back in '14 when he was just 14 years old and since that time has been one of the city's most enthusiastic pinmen. In the ten years that Larry has been going to the ABC he has never had a count below 570.

BASKETBALL DEBATE

Al Willis, new assistant manager of the Illinois High School Athletic association, who was introduced at the Midwest Officials' stag party in Rockford Friday night, says that he understands a referendum will be held within a month so that the much-debated question of the "sweet 16" in basketball may be decided by the state principals. The four team finals of this year, he says, were conducted as an experiment and that the principals will be given another chance to express their opinions. In the meantime, the fans are whooping loud enough to have quite an effect on the vote of the schoolmen.

BOWLERS' STAG PARTY

Willard Jones, the acrobat of the Dixon Recreation, will pull a few vocal gymnastics tomorrow night as toastmaster of the first annual bowlers' stag party. The event is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. at the Rainbow Inn and all league bowlers are welcome to attend. Another high spot of the program is the promised guitar playing by Bowler Cy Winebrenner and Walter C. Knack, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has promised to speak.

MORE TOURNAMENT ENTRIES

Two new team entries for the Rock River Valley Handicap Bowling tournament were received today by Secretary Ed Worley. The Bogott Welders of Sterling, captured by A. G. Bendowald and the Truck Drivers' Union, No. 330 of Elgin, captained by Howard Floyd are the latest entries. Each team will bowl in the team, doubles and singles events. The tournament begins at the Dixon Recreation on Saturday and will continue to May 11.

TO SEEK FAME AT ST. PAUL

Dixon will be well represented at the American Bowling Congress the week end of April 26. In addition to the Dixon Recreation team, there are six "independents" who will bowl in the singles and doubles. The tandems include: Frank Lessner and Ray Wilbur; Wayne Williams and George H. Jeanguenoit; John Smith and Larry Poole. This will be Smith's first time at an ABC event. All are among the high average boys in the local leagues and are expected to do well in the big time.

PICTURE IN THE PAPER

Mrs. Emily Flanagan has received some papers from Scott Field with pictures of the state independent basketball champions on whose team her son, Earl, was an outstanding player. The newspaper, The Scott Field Broadcaster, carries an excellent sports section with news of all the activities at the field.

Cincinnati Reds Making Themselves Look Mighty Good for Opening Game

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cincinnati Reds aren't squeezing the Grapefruit League dry, but they are making themselves look mighty good for the opening of the National League season a week from tomorrow.

The World Champions have won 15 games and lost 10 in the citrus circuit, a mark which looks a little puny beside the record of the New York Yankees' 22 victories and 5 defeats, and several other clubs that have been piling up, deceiving decisions against minor league opposition.

But 24 of the Reds' 25 games have been against major league opponents and Bill McKechnie has been steering his raiders to hit opening day at full throttle.

The tipoff that he is about to succeed came yesterday when Cincinnati downed the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 3, with six-hit pitching by Paul Derringer and Gene Thompson and a 12-hit attack.

Derringer had been struck in the groin by a batted ball in Florida and had been away from the team for a couple of weeks. He showed that he is his old fearsome self again by holding the Red Sox to one hit for three innings in his first start since rejoining the club.

Lombardi Is Limping

Catcher Ernie Lombardi has been limping on the ankle he injured just before last year's World Series and there has been doubt about how much help he would be this year. But he rapped out three hits, two of them doubles and caught six innings yesterday to show he is fit.

These developments overshadowed the sleight-of-hand magic that many of the other big leaguers were showing the bushes last week. Most of the teams were heading homeward with one-day stands against assorted rivals and the Yankees, Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals all succeeded in winning every one of their seven sessions during the week. But there wasn't a major league victim in the lot.

The Detroit Tigers, laying over in Florida to avoid the bad weather they encountered by an early tour last year, lost five out of six games during the week and languished in the Grapefruit cellar.

the post as a "reformer or policeman" but but the league gave him a nightstick to swing away.

Under the new constitution, Layden has the power to discipline any persons connected with the league—club owner, stockholder, players, officials or anyone else on the payroll of any club. There is no appeal from his decisions and fines for misconduct may run as high as $25,000.

Layden's duties include drafting of the annual playing schedules, selecting and assigning officials, approving all club contracts, handling revenues of the league, and settling inter-club disputes.

The only possible way in which Layden can be overruled is by changing the by-laws and this can be done only by an 8-2 vote in the annual league meeting. The owners cannot hold an official meeting at any other time of the year unless Layden orders it.

Winebrenner Rolls High Game With 242 Count And High Series

Dixon shared honors with St. Paul as an American Bowling Congress center yesterday. Not officially, perhaps, but the ABC teams of Dixon and Mendota did a little preliminary work here on the local alleys to test their comparative pin-spilling skills.

The Dixon ABC team won the special match, 2700 to 2639. Leading the winners was Cy Winebrenner with a 597 count scored on games of 168-242 and 187. G. El-sesser led the visitors with 204-179-173 for 556.

In the game scores the Dixon men won the first two by comfortable margins but lost the last game. Al Wolfe scored a 210 game for Dixon in his second and L. Spenader rolled 238 for Mendota while G. Prescott of the same quintet got over the line with 201 in his second game.

New York, April 7.—(The Special News Service)—Leo Durocher apparently isn't too happy about having Van Mungo back. Specials to the New York papers quote him: "Next time, Mungo goes or I go!" Hank Iba, crack cage coach of the Oklahoma Aggies, is spiking reports he'll shift to Iowa U. . . . George Halas, Clark Shaughnessy and Ralph Jones, Lake Forest college coach, are collaborating on a book "The Modern T Formation" . . . Mike Jacobs is burned up at the unsatisfactory ending of that Conn-Barlund thing in Chicago. The way Mike's store teeth are clacking indicates Lou Nova instead of Conn will get that June shot at Joe Louis . . . Lou Novikoff took his first chew of tobacco the other day and for a few moments felt like a real big leaguer—then it caught up with him.

Atlanta, Ga.—Followers of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who have done a lot of talking this spring about trades that didn't come off, are wondering if yesterday's conference between Manager Leo Durocher and Clarence Rowland, Chicago Cubs' scout, meant a discussion about Billy Herman or Hank Leibler.

Johnson City, Tenn.—Bob Feller, who is about ready to pitch Cleveland's opening game of the season, won't make any prediction as to how many games he will win this year.

Albuquerque, N. M.—The newest of Frank Frisch's numerous worries concerns the Pittsburgh Pirates third base coverage. Both Debs Garms, the 1940 National League batting champ, and Jeep Handley have their weaknesses.

Atlanta—The New York Yankees' exhibition-game slugging has pretty well overshadowed their pitching, but they can't keep Lefty Gomez comeback hidden. Gomez has pitched 25 innings in five games so far, allowing 19 hits and four runs.

Philadelphia—President Gerry Nugent of the Phillies, who left the team on its way to Charleston, S. C., to return home, shrugged off reports that Johnny Rizzo, hard-hitting outfielder, might be traded.

Owensboro, Ky.—Manager Joe Cronin, who is beginning to suspect that his Boston Red Soxers can hit only every third day, had high hopes they would get going today against the Reds.

Johnson City, Tenn.—Cliff Melton, whose value to the New York Giants was doubtful when training started, appears to have won himself a full-time pitching job since canny Gabby Hartnett has been catching and coaching him.

Wichita, Kans.—The Boston Bees' rookies were perched on the anxious seat today as Bees and the St. Louis Browns resumed their series. Manager Casey Stengel has served notice several hirings will be dropped when the squad reaches Evansville, Ind., Thursday.

Lakeland, Fla.—Washington's Senators are convinced that if they have nothing tougher to beat than the champion Detroit Tigers this year they should be rated as an American League pennant contender instead of a long shot.

Yesterday's 6-2 victory over Detroit was the fifth straight time they had knocked over the Tigers.

Shreveport, La.—The St. Louis Cardinals won one for "The Kid" when they beat Houston 5-1 yesterday. Manager Billy Southworth's son, Billy, Jr., who was a pretty good ball player himself before he joined the Army Air Corps, was one of the spectators. He is stationed at Randolph Field, Texas.

El Paso, Tex.—Dario Lodigiani, another of Manager Jimmy Dyke's bargains, apparently has beaten Sophomore Bob Kennedy out of the regular third base job with the Chicago White Sox. "I can't take that little guy out of there as long as he keeps delivering base hits," says Dykes. Claude Passeau was due to pitch against the Sox for the Cubs today as they continued their city series with the National Leaguers leading 4-3. Passeau was the first Cub pitcher to try to go the full nine innings.

Albuquerque, N. M.—The newest of Frank Frisch's numerous worries concerns the Pittsburgh Pirates third base coverage. Both Debs Garms, the 1940 National League batting champ, and Jeep Handley have their weaknesses.

Atlanta—The New York Yankees' exhibition-game slugging has pretty well overshadowed their pitching, but they can't keep Lefty Gomez comeback hidden. Gomez has pitched 25 innings in five games so far, allowing 19 hits and four runs.

Philadelphia—President Gerry Nugent of the Phillies, who left the team on its way to Charleston, S. C., to return home, shrugged off reports that Johnny Rizzo, hard-hitting outfielder, might be traded.

Owensboro, Ky.—Manager Joe Cronin, who is beginning to suspect that his Boston Red Soxers can hit only every third day, had high hopes they would get going today against the Reds.

Johnson City, Tenn.—Cliff Melton, whose value to the New York Giants was doubtful when training started, appears to have won himself a full-time pitching job since canny Gabby Hartnett has been catching and coaching him.

Wichita, Kans.—The Boston Bees' rookies were perched on the anxious seat today as Bees and the St. Louis Browns resumed their series. Manager Casey Stengel has served notice several hirings will be dropped when the squad reaches Evansville, Ind., Thursday.

Lakeland, Fla.—Washington's Senators are convinced that if they have nothing tougher to beat than the champion Detroit Tigers this year they should be rated as an American League pennant contender instead of a long shot.

Yesterday's 6-2 victory over Detroit was the fifth straight time they had knocked over the Tigers.

Shreveport, La.—The St. Louis Cardinals won one for "The Kid" when they beat Houston 5-1 yesterday. Manager Billy Southworth's son, Billy, Jr., who was a pretty good ball player himself before he joined the Army Air Corps, was one of the spectators. He is stationed at Randolph Field, Texas.

El Paso, Tex.—Dario Lodigiani, another of Manager Jimmy Dyke's bargains, apparently has beaten Sophomore Bob Kennedy out of the regular third base job with the Chicago White Sox. "I can't take that little guy out of there as long as he keeps delivering base hits," says Dykes. Claude Passeau was due to pitch against the Sox for the Cubs today as they continued their city series with the National Leaguers leading 4-3. Passeau was the first Cub pitcher to try to go the full nine innings.

ABC Scores Are Far Better This Year Than Last

St. Paul, April 7.—(AP)—More out-of-town teams will attempt to dethrone the leading Vogels of Forest Park, Ill., in the American Bowling Congress tonight. None of the 160 teams scheduled over the week-end could reach the 3,065 of the Chicago suburbanites and unless the score is passed tonight, it bids fair to hold up until next week-end, with "boosters" again taking over during the mid-week.

A comparison of scores at the end of the 25th day, shows that the rolling this year is far superior to 1940. There are now 680 totals of 600 or better in the singles, against 306 for the same period last year.

Champion Recreations, Youngstown, O., hit 2,942 yesterday to take fifth in the team event.

Leading the Sabbath bombardment was Eddie Koepf and Pat Albris, members of the Linsz Recreation of Cleveland, who were recently defeated by the St. Louis Hermann Undertakers for the national match title. Koepf, 49, a machinist, took second in the all-events with 1,972 while Albris hit 708 for fifth in the singles.

The standings (first three in each event):
Singles:
Martin Carlson, Rockford, Ill., 730.
Hilla Kallas, Milwaukee, 727.
Victor Bucholz, Mankato, Minn., 720.

All-Events

Eddie Koepf, Cleveland, 1,972.
Nelson Burton, St. Louis, 1,965.

CHICAGO TOWERS TANKERS DEFEAT MICHIGAN TEAM

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 7.—(AP)—Coach Matt Winn, builder of champions at the University of Michigan, today has just what he said he wanted—a defeated and deflated collection of swimmers.

The Chicago Towers club, in winning the National A. A. U. indoor swimming championship Saturday night with 44 points to Michigan's 36, removed Mann's Wolverines from the category of the invincibles. Mann wanted that championship but he also expressed a wish, before the A. A. U. meet, that sooner or later Michigan would get "a good sound licking".

Dixon's DeMolay Cagers Lose to Peoria Champions

It took a championship team to defeat the Dixon DeMolay cagers in the state tournament at Peoria this past week end. The local basketballers bumped into the Peoria quintet on Friday night and were spilled, 39 to 24 and before the tournament had ended the hosts had gone on to win the title by defeating the Centralia favorites, 30 to 27. Moline defeated Galesburg, 51 to 25, for third place.

Dixon trailed the Peoria foe, 12 to 3, at the end of the first period but matched scoring with them to hold the margin with a 19 to 10 score at halftime. In the third canto the Dixon team scored four points while Peoria rolled up eight. In the last frame the winners made 12 points to 10 by the Dixon lads.

Scoring honors of the game were shared by Bob McNamera of the Dixon team and Launberry of Peoria with nine points each. The latter is a member of the freshman team at Bradley Tech and made the winning field goal in the championship game Saturday night against the Centralia team. Ashley and Derby, also the Peoria's team, are members of the Manual High school team and displayed outstanding basketball talent.

Craig Wood Wins Augusta Masters Golf Tournament

By BILL BONI

Augusta, Ga., April 7.—(AP)—If this is in a slightly celebrant mood, ladies and gentlemen, we simply must beg your indulgence. Ever since roughly 6 o'clock yesterday evening we have been helping to celebrate a golfing victory which deserved celebration as much as any single triumph we can recall.

Reference is, of course, to Craig Wood's triumph in the eighth annual Augusta Masters tournament. Wood won by three shots he finished with an even-par 72 for a 72-hole score of 280, eight under par, he beat P. G. A. Champion Byron Nelson by three strokes, and he had the seasoning and the golf shots to clinch the victory with a two-under-par finish for the last nine holes.

Attains A Peak

Thus Wood at 39, attained a peak which most professional golfers hit 10 years earlier. Though he won the Metropolitan open less than a year ago with a new championship record score of 264, this was the first time in his career that he has been able to take down one of the pro game's four top prizes—the U. S. and British open, the P. G. A. and the Masters. Twice before he had come close at Augusta, in 1934 and again in 1935.

But this time he left no doubt about the issue. He shot a six-under par 66 the first day to lead by five strokes; followed up with a 71 to strike a three-shot margin; added another 71 to preserve that advantage and then followed up by "killing off" P. G. A. Champion Byron Nelson after the Toledo pro had drawn even with nine holes to play.

State Tax Reform Suggested by State College Economist

Professor Has Scheme to Bolster Payments and Halt Defaults

Champaign, Ill., April 7.—(AP)—Drastic tax reforms in Illinois designed to improve collections and halt tax delinquency were urged today by Prof. H. K. Allen, University of Illinois economist.

Prof. Allen, who outlined his views in the "Illinois Law Review", recommended cutting property taxes by reducing the "multiplicity" of government units they support, by shifting part of their load to other taxes, including a state income tax, by abolishing or reforming personal property taxes and by "scientific" year-around assessment.

"Efficiency and economy", he asserted, "are greatly impeded by the multiplicity of the 15,126 local political units in Illinois."

"The township and road districts should be abolished and their functions transferred to the county. The size of the school district should be greatly increased. The number of counties should be reduced to approximately one-third the present 102. Most of the present elective offices should be appointive, and personnel should be recruited on a merit basis."

"The tax collection task would be lightened to the extent that these reforms would reduce taxes. Property taxes could be further reduced by more just distribution of the total tax bill among property and other sources of tax-paying capacity."

"Since the state is not levying property taxes, this reduction could be accomplished by transferring to the state some of the local functions, such as schools and roads. As an alternative, the state high increase grants-in-aid for schools and relief, and extend the system of shared taxes such as the gasoline tax."

"The state might secure additional revenues through a personal income tax; a use tax applied to goods purchased outside Illinois; taxes on such items as cigarettes and soft drinks; a business tax; a state liquor monopoly, and perhaps an increase in the gasoline tax."

Cities Examples
"Because of the weaknesses in personal property taxation, Illinois should either follow the example of New York and Pennsylvania and abolish it entirely, or adopt a classified property tax as many other states have."

Turning to real estate, Prof. Allen said that in order to assure uniform assessment, the assessing should be put on a continuous year-round basis and added that "scientific assessing methods" should be employed.

"Administration of property tax could be improved," he said, "by requiring tax maps, following the example of Alabama, Florida and New Jersey."

To improve tax collections and slash delinquencies, Prof. Allen recommended that in place of the present tax sale, property be held by the county for two years during which owners could redeem it by paying taxes, interest, penalties and costs. At the end of two years the property would be sold outright for not less than the total of these charges and with a clear title given to the purchaser.

Tracts for which private bidders did not offer a sum at least equal to the tax charges would be purchased by the county or state and be removed from the tax rolls. Property for which private purchase could be expected would be held for sale. Other tax-delinquent would be converted to public use, such as recreational areas.

Prof. Allen named Alexander, Cook, Franklin and Williamson counties as "examples" of areas in which "chronic delinquency is evidenced by county totals."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 6.

The Golden Text was, "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Timothy 6:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "On that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness" (Psalms 107:8, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We cannot build safely on false foundations. Truth makes a new creature, in whom old things pass away and all things become new. Passions, selfishness, false appetites, hatred, fear, all sensuality, yield to spirituality, and the superabundance of being is on the side of God, good" (p. 201).

R. A. F. Officer Recounts Story of Parachutists Landing in Italy

London.—(AP)—Young British parachutists landing in Italy on the night of February 10 sang "Oh, we've got a surprise for the Duce, the Duce," as they stepped off into space, one of the fliers who ferried them there said in a broadcast tonight.

The speaker was an anonymous R. A. F. officer.

The Italians have claimed that all the parachute raiders were rounded up, but the British merely said that some of them did not return to base.

The broadcaster declared R. A. F. pilots and crews carried the parachute force with accuracy in a long night of flights over the sea and hostile territory and for long periods in bad weather.

Although their objectives were "pinpoints", the ferrying ran according to schedule, he said.

"The night of the show itself was one of the most beautiful you can imagine—full moon and glorious stars above patches of white cloud. The sea was clear of mist and snow capped the ridges of the Appennines."

"Like Landscape Model"

"I had flown over that bit of coast on my way to Africa years ago and could recognize it in moonlight x x x just like a landscape model we had used in planning the job and training the crews."

"It was easy afterward to see the parachutes on the ground and figures of the troops moving together and giving us a last flash from their torches as we passed overhead."

The British have said the attack was made for the purpose of demolishing certain objectives connected with ports in southern Italy. In Rome, observers speculated that the Apulian aqueduct or hydroelectric plants may have been objectives. Subsequently, the Italians announced that freight traffic in the area had been suspended.

The blue-eyed Welshman gunner is the only man from the ranks to receive the Knight's Cross of the Iron Cross.

As he marched by the guards before the chancellery these presented arms for the first time in their lives to a soldier not an officer.

The Knight's Cross was awarded not only for the accuracy of his aim, but also for his nerve in letting the British tanks approach to within 600 to 1,000 feet before firing—although his commander had given permission to "fire at will."

"There were 30 tanks in all, but by the time I incapacitated 11 the others preferred to retreat," he said.

Miles Per Bale of Hay Was Anybody's Guess

Today a question frequently asked is "How many miles to the gallon?" but strange as it may seem, in the 1850s a question that may have been asked by settlers along the Kankakee and Iroquois rivers was "How many miles per bale of hay?"

In 1846 the Illinois legislature passed a special act incorporating a navigation company to improve navigation on the Kankakee and Iroquois rivers. However, in 1853 a railroad line came to Kankakee, and the whistle of the locomotive broke the dream of the inland waterway advocates. They awoke to find themselves living in a new era.

Nevertheless some settlers near Mokena continued to use the river to transport produce and merchandise. In 1854 a citizen of Mokena constructed and operated what is believed to have been the first steamboat to navigate the Kankakee. This craft could go only as far as Waldron because of the dam, where a flat boat connected Waldron and Kankakee. It had a large stern wheel, and power was supplied by two horses walking on a treadmill that ran the full length of the boat.

Unfortunately, history is silent as to how many miles the captain of the boat got on a bale of hay.

Men in German U-Boats Taught To Add Tonnage

Admiral Says Claims of Tolls "Accurate As Possible"

Berlin.—(The Special News Service)—Miniature models of every British warcraft and auxiliary man-of-war known to the German high command ride miniature seas in a training course intended to teach aviators and submarine commanders how to estimate tonnage sunk.

Admiral Friedrich Luetzow gave foreign correspondents this explanation of tonnage toll claims:

"No military force in the world can estimate with absolute accuracy just what the effect of its torpedoes or bombs has been."

"I can say for the German high command, however, that it comes as close to the truth as humanly possible. We're not infallible, but no effort is spared to ascertain accurate facts."

"You may ask: How can any submarine commander tell what he's sunk? In the first place we've put into our subs men who for many years roved the seas as captains or officers on commercial ships."

"They know great numbers of ships from all lands and certainly know types. They may err, but their errors are in no way confined to mistakes unfavorable to England. I know personally of cases where a commander has reported, say, sinking of a 5,000-tonner, when later it was proved that a 15,000-tonner actually had been sunk."

"Mistakes are seldom."

"But mistakes either way are seldom."

"Before submarine and airforce bomber officers are given assignments, they go through a practical course in tonnage estimating. Models of various types of British warships and of commercial vessels used as auxiliaries are placed before them on artificial seas."

"Students are stationed in the same relative position to the moving miniature craft, often hidden from their view by a smoke-screen, as they would be on the high seas looking through binoculars."

"As an imaginary hit is achieved against some model, students are asked to write down the name of the ship hit. In that way their eye is sharpened, and they soon can judge vessels with great accuracy."

Bureau and Ogle Attorneys Named Aides to Barrett

Chicago, April 7.—(AP)—For the first time in the state's history, two women have been appointed as assistant attorneys general of Illinois.

Two women were among the 17 assistants whose appointments were announced by Attorney General George F. Barrett. The women appointees, who will be field assistants in their respective counties, were Miss Lillian Schlagenhauf of Quincy and Mrs. Maxine M. Woodruff of Mt. Vernon.

Eleven other new field assistant attorneys general for downstate counties and four Chicagoans were named by Barrett.

Miss Schlagenhauf, who will represent the attorney general in Adams county, is the daughter of the late William Schlagenhauf, formerly Quincy Corporation Counsel. She has been associated in law practice with her uncle, P. J. Schlagenhauf.

Mrs. Woodruff, who has a legal practice in Mt. Vernon, will represent the attorney general in taxation and other legal matters in Jefferson county. She is state legislative chairman of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

Horse Thieves Learned Their Business was Bad

Until horse thieves learned better, they turned up from time to time in Illinois counties during the early days of settlement and were given "a warm reception" that many of them never forgot.

Among the protective groups formed in the state to combat such thieves was the Richard Grove Vigilance Committee, formed during 1859 in Henry county, says the Illinois Writers' Project. WPA Notification by a member that a horse had been stolen was the signal for immediate energetic and united action.

In the course of thirty years, according to its secretary, the committee always "got its man," sent him to Joliet, and returned the stolen property to its owner.

Plans for 10 New Armories Get O. K.

Governor Green Puts Stamp of Approval on Board Proposal

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—(AP)—Plans for construction of an additional ten state armories downstate and replacement of the 131st infantry armory in Chicago were approved today by Governor Green.

The new armories, for which the governor said an appropriation of $241,300 to finance the state's participation would be included in the proposed budget which he plans to submit to the legislature this week, will complete the state armory board's statewide construction plan.

New military buildings will be located at Alton, Bloomington, East St. Louis, Galva, Joliet, Macomb, Moline, Paris, Springfield and Sterling.

The governor said it was planned to have as many of the new buildings as possible completed by the time the 33rd division and other Illinois National Guard units return from a year's training in federal service.

Under the financing plan worked out by the Armory Board, sites for the buildings would be donated by the cities in which they are to be located. Construction would be financed by WPA grants and Armory Board bonds which would amortize on a 24-year basis through rentals paid by the state.

When bonds are retired, the armory buildings would become state property. The state at present is renting private buildings for armory purposes.

The $241,300 appropriation to be sought would cover rentals on the buildings and provide fixtures and equipment.

18 Armories Completed
The Armory Board was established in 1937 and has completed 18 buildings, 15 of them downstate and three in Chicago. Those downstate are located at Carbonale, Champaign, Delavan, Dixon, Elgin, Lawrenceville, Mt. Vernon, Pontiac, Rockford, Rock Island, Salem, Streator, Sycamore, Urbana and Waukegan.

The Chicago buildings are the 108th observation squadron headquarters at the Municipal Airport, the northwest armory in Humboldt Park, and the addition to the 122nd field artillery armory on Chicago avenue near Lake Michigan.

Governor Green announced that C. Merrick Hammond, state architect, would begin work in a few days on designs for the new buildings in the ten downstate cities. The structures will be uniform in architecture and will probably follow closely the lines of armories already constructed. Their sizes will depend upon the number and kind of units they will house.

Officials in a number of cities already have consulted the Armory Board and taken steps toward transferring sites to the board.

The Armory Board, which works in cooperation with Adjutant General Leo M. Boyle, is composed of Major General Roy D. Keehn, chairman; Colonel Nelson Morris, Chicago; General A. T. English, Kankakee; Major Pierce L. Shannon, Chicago; and Joseph F. McGlynn, East St. Louis.
